From Wikipedia: William Wilberforce (24 August 1759 – 29 July 1833) was an English politician, philanthropist, and a leader of the movement to stop the slave trade. A native of Kingston upon Hull, Yorkshire, he began his political career in 1780, eventually becoming an independent Member of Parliament (MP) for Yorkshire (1784–1812). In 1785, he became an Evangelical Christian, which resulted in major changes to his lifestyle and a lifelong concern for reform.

In 1787, he came into contact with Thomas Clarkson and a group of anti-slave-trade activists, including Granville Sharp, Hannah More and Charles Middleton. They persuaded Wilberforce to take on the cause of abolition, and he soon became one of the leading English abolitionists. He headed the parliamentary campaign against the British slave trade for twenty years until the passage of the Slave Trade Act of 1807.

Wilberforce was convinced of the importance of religion, morality and education. He championed causes and campaigns such as the Society for the Suppression of Vice, British missionary work in India, the creation of a free colony in Sierra Leone, the foundation of the Church Mission Society, and the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. His underlying conservatism led him to support politically and socially controversial legislation, and resulted in criticism that he was ignoring injustices at home while campaigning for the enslaved abroad.

In later years, Wilberforce supported the campaign for the complete abolition of slavery, and continued his involvement after 1826, when he resigned from Parliament because of his failing health. That campaign led to the Slavery Abolition Act 1833, which abolished slavery in most of the British Empire; Wilberforce died just three days after hearing that the passage of the Act through

Rotary wins prestigious Silver Telly for AIDS documentary

A documentary film produced by Rotary's broadcast media department

that features Rotary member Marion Bunch and her work to prevent the spread of HIV/AIDS in underprivileged African
communities won two 2015 Telly Awards.

The prestigious awards are given annually to the finest film and video productions.

Rotary's

documentary,

"Rotary Family

Health Days"

received a Silver

Telly, the highest honor, in the online

video-documentary category, and a

Bronze Telly in the online video-

branded content

and entertainment category. The documentary was shown by the South African

Broadcasting Corporation and throughout Africa.

"What we tried to accomplish with the film was to get the good news and the good deeds out there so that the non-Rotary world can see it," says producer Andrew

Chudzinski. "It was a great collaborative project."

The film documents the tremendous
burden HIV/AIDS places on African families and communities. It covers the journeys of two women:
South African
grandmother Me Maria, who is raising her two grandsons whose parents died of AIDS, and Bunch,

from Atlanta, Georgia, USA, who became a global advocate for AIDS prevention and the inspiration for Rotary Family
Health Days after she lost her son to the disease.

"Because of that one single tragedy, my life's journey

changed dramatically, from a very engaged businesswoman to a warrior on AIDS and advocate of human rights," Bunch told senior
White House staff in October, when she was honored as one of 10 Rotary Women of Action for 2014. A member of the Rotary Club of Dunwoody, Bunch is the founder and CEO of Rotarians for Family Health and AIDS Prevention, a group of members that collaborates with Rotary clubs and districts on health-related projects.

The Rotary Health

Days project, now in its fifth year and supported by Rotary clubs in Africa, has grown to deliver free basic health care,
including HIV/AIDS screening and other preventive services, to underserved communities in Ghana, Nigeria, South Africa, and

Uganda. It began in 2010, when Ugandan Stephen Mwanje, then governor of District 9211, asked Bunch
if the Rotarian group would organize a multisite, comprehensive health event.

burden on the families of those infected by HIV/AIDS -- particularly for older people caring for their terminally ill children and raising their grandchildren, and for children orphaned by this disease -- is incalculable," says Bunch. "This is a story of people coming together to help fight this global killer and other preventable diseases."

The award-winning documentary was a joint project of the public relations and broadcast media
staff at Rotary's world headquarters in Evanston, Illinois. In addition to Chudzinski, producer Vivian

Fiore, video editor Todd Murphy, and executive producer Stephen Guenther
worked on the film.

"We went through many different outlines, thoughts, and angles, and worked closely with Marion [Bunch] on it," says Fiore. "It evolved into a better piece than we all imagined."

In 2012, Rotary won a Silver Telly for its documentary
"Doing Good in the World: Growing
Local Economies."
